

'Still life' is a painting or drawing of an arrangement of objects, typically including fruit and flowers and objects contrasting with these in texture, such as bowls and glassware. Paul Cezanne (1839 – 1906) is a French artist who is famous for this type of painting. Here are some of his paintings:

Here are some 'still life' that have been painted by other people:

This week, we'd like you to draw your own 'still life'. Choose 5 – 10 objects from around your home and arrange them on a table or a chair. Then try to draw them. You can use a pencil, a pen, crayons, paints or whatever you have. If you don't like it the first time, remember just try it again. If you are sketching it, try using different shading techniques like the ones below.

If you

If you want to do more art, then you can get ideas from two activity packs that you can download here:

If you want to do some art on the computer, go to Purple Mash, click on Art, click on Paint Projects and try painting an animal or something else. Here is Ms Kennedy's tiger that she just made on Purple Mash.
